NOTES:

- If you do not have a Smith machine, you may substitute using a barbell.
- This program is designed to be done to complete muscle failure on the final set. If your body can keep going, keep going!
- The workout must be completed in a 7 day period. Take rest days whenever is convenient. I like to go straight through Monday to Saturday and rest on Sunday.
- Get a spotter for all days if possible. The spotter is simply there to assist you through your sticking point on the final reps of the final set. They should not be lifting the bar for you unless your muscles actually completely fail.
- The heavier your lift, the more muscle damage you will incur, the more your muscles will grow!
